The Hill Center Leadership Working Group

The Hill Center Leadership Working Group provides learning, stimulation, and mutual advice and support for leaders committed to helping their organizations prosper through ethical leadership. Join our monthly meetings to learn, develop skills, discuss challenges, and tackle ethical problems that your organization encounters every day. Membership is entirely free.

CHAPTER 1: MEETING THE THIRD WEDNESDAY OF EVERY MONTH

7:30 - 9:00 AM
James J. Hill Reference Library
80 West Fourth Street
Saint Paul, MN 55102

CHAPTER 2: MEETING THE FOURTH FRIDAY OF EVERY MONTH

7:30-9:00 AM
Southwest Metro
Meeting is held at restaurants in the Edina/Eden Prairie area; specific location determined one month in advance.

Monthly meetings typically center on a text, but participants need not have read the texts to benefit from the conversations. We introduce a new text most months; previous topics included: Max DePree, Leadership is an Art; Robert Sutton, The No Asshole Rule; SunTzu, The Art of War; Machiavelli, The Prince; Bill George, True North; and more.

Contact ethics@jjhill.org for information on current texts or to recommend texts to the group

The Leadership Working Group is a service of the Hill Center for Ethical Business Leadership, a division of the James J. Hill Reference Library. The Hill Center's mission is to help businesses prosper through a strategic commitment to ethics and social responsibility. The Hill Center is supported by a grant from the Harry Halloran Foundation, our sponsors and donors.
